

WEDDING STATIONERY TIMELINE

We know how hard it can be to keep up with everything while planning your wedding. Here's a general timeline to help you stay on track with your stationery schedule.

6 to 12 Months

ORDER AND SEND YOUR SAVE THE DATES

Hey, life happens, so your guests will need a heads up about your event, right? Confirm those wedding details before notifying your guests of any arrangements. To ensure your save the dates coordinate with the rest of your wedding stationery, reach out to your stationery designer to discuss your ideas. For destination weddings, the sooner you send those save the dates, the better.

4 to 6 Months

DISCUSS STATIONERY NEEDS WITH YOUR DESIGNER

It's important to allow yourself and your designer plenty of time to brainstorm, design, and decide on the "perfect" wedding stationery that fits your big day. Remember, your wedding invitations will set the tone for your wedding day and give your guests an idea of what to expect for your big day.

3 to 4 Months

THINK ABOUT YOUR DAY-OF STATIONERY

Day-of stationery is often over looked, but you would be surprised how the small details can make a big difference in setting your event apart from the next. Take this time to think about if you'd like to have menus, programs, or even a seating chart at your wedding. If the answer is yes, now is the time to talk to your designer about these details. Remember, the sooner the better. :-)

2 to 3 Months

MAIL OUT THOSE INVITATIONS

Although you've sent your guests a save the date for your event, it doesn't give them all of the information they need to know about your event. Now is the time to send out your invitations to your guests to give them ample time to finalize their plans to attend your event.

Up to 3 Months after

SEND YOUR THANK YOU NOTES

Don't forget to thank your guests for being apart of your special day.
